FW PLATINUM+
Emerging Leaders

A 12-week program for emerging women leaders

Make the move from high-performer to strategic leader

If you're the one who fixes it, finishes it or never drops it, this program is for you. And if you're the one who signs off the budget, it's time to invest in the leader you'll need next.

Since 2018, more than 1,100 women have completed FW's Platinum+ Emerging Leaders program. In 2027, the program returns in a smarter, sharper format, designed to fit flexibly into the lives of busy professional women.

Platinum+ Emerging Leaders offers 12 focused weeks of online professional development, followed by a 12-month FW Membership to keep the momentum going. Built for women in high-pressure corporate and government roles, it helps you build management skills and meet future workforce demands while balancing career ambition with real-world responsibilities.

The results

- 96% of participants would recommend the program
- 95% of participants expanded their professional network
- 93% of participants said what they learned will help their career trajectory
- 36% of participants were promoted within 12 months

Build confidence Establish authority and composure
Stress is contagious, but so is calm. Learn to regulate your nervous system in high-stress moments, prepare for unforeseen management challenges, and reset your boundaries cleanly when they slip.

Build capability Strategic influence and tech leverage
Master cross-functional diplomacy, delegation through AI, and managing up, across and down. Audit the gap between the capabilities you have and those that future roles will demand, and gain the clarity you need to progress.

Build connection Cross-industry peer networks
Break the isolation that can come with leadership through curated learning circles, alongside women who are navigating the same shift. Join a supportive community where you can grow a professional network on your own terms.
